- 9. According to the NYS Archives, "[m]any e-mail communications are not records and are therefore suitable for immediate destruction. Those messages and attachments which are records should be maintained in appropriate electronic or paper files and disposed consistent with applicable authorizations for those records." For this reason, the NYS Archives' standard instruction is that e-mails should be deleted "after messages and attachments are opened and records have been saved in appropriate electronic or paper file." See the General Retention and Disposition Schedule for New York State Government Records at http://www.archives.nysed.gov/a/records/mr_pub_genschedule_accessible.html. The Executive Chamber adopts the NYS Archives' policy with respect to e-mails but goes further to state that all electronic communications, whether by e-mail, text, or Blackberry pin, will fall under this policy and will be retained consistent with this records retention and disposition schedule if they constitute records. It is the content and not the form or method of the communication that governs retention.
